

Professor Fariborz Khorvash is a neurologist at department of neurology in Isfahan University Of Medical Sciences. His education in medicine and neurology was in Isfahan University and he passed a headache fellowship course at Danish headache center ( Copenhagen_Denmark ). Professor Khorvash has been the supervisor of many research projects for medical students, neurology residents and also PhD candidates of nutrition , nursing and pharmacology. He has more than 100 papers in international journals most of them is in the field of headache and migraine management and treatment. Deputy of Isfahan neurology society , supervision of residency program and governing board member of APHS are the main scientific responsibilities of him at present time.